

Eberly Scout Reservation Entrance Design

For years, Eberly Scout Reservation has been providing units with a variety of scouting adventures. Each year, our campers pass through the entrance of camp eagerly awaiting what lies ahead. Since 1952, this entrance has been most noted for the Blockhouse on right side of the road. After almost 70 years of greeting excited campers, it has been decided that the blockhouse must be removed as it has deteriorated and has become a question of safety.

The removal of the blockhouse has presented an enormous opportunity to redesign the camp entrance in order to continue providing a welcoming sight at face of camp. The council camping and properties committees are looking for ideas to recreate this important area of camp. These committees would like to ask anyone who is interested to submit their creative designs for a camp entrance.

Any designs submitted must adhere to the following parameters which have been set in place by state park uniformity codes, and maintenance restrictions:

- All archways or any structures crossing over the main road are prohibited.
- Any permanent structure must comply with the state's color guidelines (Main Structure: Shagbark Brown; Tables and Seating: Cape Cod Red; Signage Lettering: Sunshine Yellow)
- Any masonry work or retaining walls must utilize natural stone (Red brick prohibited).
- The new design may not include the usage of a gate to close the road.
- The new design must incorporate the wording "Conestoga", "Buck Run", and "Eberly Scout Reservation".
- The new design must incorporate or redesign the existing sign on the left side of the road.
- Any structure requiring a roof must use Desert Tan dimensional shingles.
- The new design can utilize both sides of the road.
- Interference with the main road is prohibited.
- Any use of plant life will be subjected to state park approval in order to ensure the use of native plants. Any recommended plants must be steady growth and low maintenance plants.
